Confronting Deafness with Courage

Born profoundly deaf, Marlee faced countless obstacles growing up. Determined to defy expectations, she embraced her disability and pursued her passion for acting. With hard work and resilience, she broke barriers and became the first deaf person to win an Oscar.

A Tapestry of Family

Matlin's story is not just about her own experiences. It's also a testament to the unwavering support of her family. From her loving parents to her siblings and extended relatives, each person played a vital role in shaping her life. Through their stories, readers gain a glimpse into the unique challenges and triumphs of deaf families.

Finding Her Voice

Beyond the silver screen, Marlee has been a vocal advocate for the deaf community. She has fought tirelessly for equal rights, accessibility, and representation in all aspects of life. In "I'll Scream Later," she shares her experiences fighting for inclusion, challenging stereotypes, and inspiring others to embrace their differences.

A Story of Resilience

Matlin's memoir is a raw and honest account of the setbacks, joys, and lessons she has encountered along the way. It's a story of resilience, triumph, and the transformative power of finding one's voice. With candor and humor, she takes readers on an unforgettable journey that will leave them uplifted and inspired.

“ "Marlee Matlin is a role model for all of us. Her story is one of courage, determination, and finding your own voice. I'm so grateful for her incredible talent and the inspiration she brings to the world."

- Oprah Winfrey”
